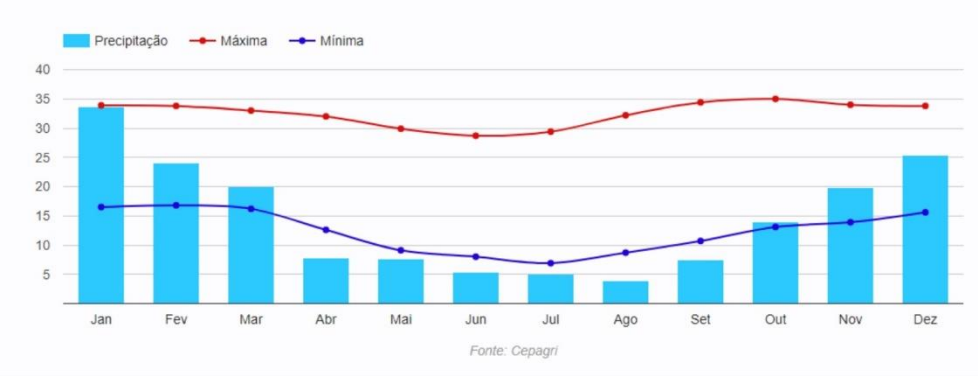
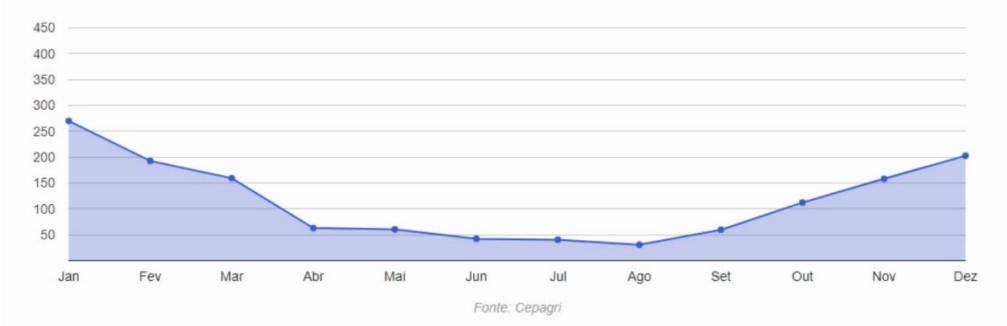
17. WEATHER

18. METEOROLOGY



Annual average temperature (maximum and minimum) from 1990 to 2021



Historical rainfall for the month of September from 1992 to 2021

With mountains up to 750 meters high and large plains, our microclimate is highly predictable. Strong morning winds and sharp reductions around noon, making it possible to reach zero km/h, are outstanding characteristics of Pico do Gavião that allow safe takeoffs of up to 20km/h. The temperature is high during the day, and a sharp drop at night. Rains are rare for the month of September, known in Brazil as the month of fires. Daily newsletters formulated by aviation pilots we hire and local pilots who know every kilometer of our flight region, allow us to carry out great and challenging tasks. Click here and see more weather information for our region.

19th FAI Paragliding World Championship

19. TRANSPORT

The transfer for the pilots takeoff will be done in a minibus with approximately 15 competitors, equipped with a tracker, cell phone, radio and bilingual assistance. They are the same minibuses that will rescue the competitors. The equipment will be transported by two box trucks, in the same way as the collection. The transfer of the technical team will be done with vehicles for up to four people. All transport hired will be available throughout the event.

20. SAFETY ISSUES

There is no record of fatal accidents in the last 5 years at Pico do Gavião. In general, the pilots who flew here, including in the last two PWC's of 2017 and 2019, pointed out the region's flight safety as one of the highlights of the competition. Regional competitions of a lower technical level, without serious or fatal occurrences, attest to the safety of the venue.

21. RESCUE / MEDICAL SERVICES

Vetor Esportes does not use ambulances from the municipality. At takeoff we have private service, with a Mobile Intensive Care Unit with support, capable of making small surgical interventions if necessary, with professionals accustomed to watching risky sports such as motocross and motor racing. One unit is fixed at take-off and another follows the task path. Private firefighters specialized in mountain care are also part of the team.

21. RESCUE / MEDICAL SERVICES
22. SAFEY MANAGEMENT PLAN

Pico do Gavião has the support of the Eagle Air Group of the Military Police of the State of São Paulo, which has the second largest fleet of helicopters in the world, which today total 31 units, two of which are on fixed bases 110km away from the Pico do Gavião, precisely in the cities of Campinas and Piracicaba, being able to provide assistance in 40 minutes after being called. Click here and get to know the Eagle Group of the Military Police of the State of São Paulo.

A crisis management group will be formed to prepare a manual in accordance with the FAI document "guidelines in the event of an accident or serious accident" containing the actions to be taken, and the respective responsible for each action with the public agencies , medical assistance and the press in general.

22. SAFEY MANAGEMENT PLAN

There are three options for hospital care in our region.

23. TRANSMISSIONS

RADIO

The efficient use of rescue trackers does not eliminate the need for competitors to use the radio. The radio is very useful in rescue situations. We use frequencies 144.120 for security and 144.300 for recovery. No special license is required for use.

CELL PHONE COVERAGE

The flight region has 100% cell phone coverage.
Prices are low and affordable.
There is a forecast of availability of 5G technology until the year 2024

24. LIAISON WITH POLICE, MILITARY, PUBLIC SERVICES

Pico do Gavião and the city of Andradas host the regional and national championships of Hang Gliding and Paragliding annually. VETOR ESPORTES 'relationship with public services is done as an autopilot vehicle, that is, they are routine services in our sporting events.
