CISM Report for 73rd IPC Plenary

1) CISM 2022

45th CISM World Military Parachuting Championship (WMPC) was held in Güssing/Austria from 20-30 June 2022. <http://cism-austria.at/20220620/participants.html>

Some nations were absent (e.g. China due to Covid, Russia and Belarus due to war in Ukraine) and some missed the registration deadline and were not admitted. So 29 competing nations with 211 athletes and in addition 5 nations with observers or judges made their way to Burgenland, the sunny side of Austria.

Results of 45th WMPC are available on <http://www.milsport.one/sports/parachuting> and <http://results.worldskydiving.org/FrontEnd/CompetitionCollection/1040> Thank you very much to ISC for including the CISM results on the worldskydiving page.

We could again welcome ISC President Gillian Rayner during the competition period and ceremonies.

Thank you Gillian for our good ISC-CISM relation!

Participation in Freefall Style was again almost 100 in spite of strong style nations. CISM has approved a new ground to air video camera system, details can be found on slides 27 to 31 of the CISM presentation: https://www.milsport.one/medias/fichiers/220627_open_cpc_meeting_2022_final.pdf and info@sky-tech.at

2. CISM 2023/2024

Unfortunately there is no WMPC host for 2023 because planned hosts had to withdraw due to domestic economic or political circumstances. So the next 46th World Military Parachuting Championship (WMPC) will take place in July 2024 in Hungary.

CISM is working again on a judge's seminar in the three CISM disciplines and as soon there is a confirmed host, CISM CJ Oliver Vent will contact ISC JC for possible co-ordination.

Friendship through Sport
